Claim Fines Amounting to $900 Without any Trial

(By The Associated Press)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 19.—A motor trip from Grand Rapids, Mich., to Chicago, Ind., ended in disaster, according to the former's testimony in the Lake county liquor conspiracy case in Federal Court today.
The witness' story, which involved an alleged false arrest of Gary on the charge of liquor violation, the attempt of police officers to obtain a bribe of $100 for immediate release and the subsequent successful efforts of police and attorneys to extort fines amounting to $900 without the formality of a trial, was later corroborated on the stand by Miss Alice Able, former government witness and a member of Kalver's motor party, in his testimony Kalver named a Gary police officer, Blaz, as a Gary attorney, Dwight Kinder, Lake county prosecutor and William H. Olds, Lake county sheriff, the latter five defendants in the present case. Mr. Kalver declared under examination by Homer Elmer, United States district attorney, that on September 8, 21, while driving from Grand Rapids to Chicago in company with Miss Able and a Mr. Beatty was stopped just outside of Gary by two alleged police officers who arrested him on the charge of transporting liquor. Mr. Kalver said, but they insisted on taking him to the police station and on the way various attempts to release him, first asking $100 but later declaring themselves willing to take as little as $20.
Recommend Attorney.
At the police station, he testified, the chief of police advised him to get an attorney after Mr. Kalver has asserted that he carried no liquor. The chief also told him the witness testified, that the latter could get him out of the trouble.
When Lucas came he demanded $500 to gain the party's release. Miss Able went to Detroit and wired $800 which he received the next day at the office of the chief of police. Mr. Kalver said he started to hand over the money to Lucas, but prosecuting Attorney Kinder took it.
After paying the $800 Mr. Kalver was told, he said, that would have to pay $300 more to secure the release of his automobile. After almost a week delay, Mr. Kalver secured the fictional sum and handed it to Lucas. The latter gave him a receipt for the money the witness said. The whole proceeding had been carried on without trial or an official appearance in court according to Kalver.

CONFERENCE OF ATTORNEYS WAS STARTED MONDAY

Attorneys Open Parley on Chicago Sanitary District

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, March 19.—Attorneys general from Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana and Minnesota today began a three day conference with Clyde Day, attorney for the board of sanitary district trustees of Chicago regarding the suit brought against the sanitary district and the state of Illinois by the state of Wisconsin to prevent further diversion of water thru the Chicago drainage canal. The conference originally was called here by Gov. J. J. Blaine of Wisconsin. In the suit Wisconsin charged that in using 10,000 cubic feet of water per second in the Chicago sanitary district drainage canal, the trustees are draining the lakes and injuring navigation.
Andrew Dougherty, attorney general of Michigan, showed power of attorney to bring suit on behalf of Michigan in support of that already started by Wisconsin. Attorney general Dougherty made his position clear regarding the situation indicating that Michigan was ready to fight the matter to conclusion. Attorney General Herman L. Eckern of Wisconsin indicated that his attendance at the conference meant no compromise in Wisconsin's position with regard to the sanitary district's responsibilities in large lake dispute.
Clifford L. Hinton, attorney general of Minnesota indicated that his state's interest in the dispute was passive.
Edmund White, assistant attorney general of Indiana indicated to Mr. Day the friendliness of his state.

According to William J. Healy, president of the sanitary district if the district is forced by federal action to cut down its intake of lake water into the Chicago river and the drainage canal, by fifty per cent the health of the city of Chicago would be endangered and an almost prohibitive taxation would be thrown upon the city by sewage disposal plant constructions made necessary by shutting off of drainage water.

MARION, Ill., March 19.—After a recess of eleven days caused by the illness of the wife of one of the jurors the prosecution today resumed the introduction of evidence against Hugh Willis, state executive board member of the United Mine Workers and five others charged with murder in connection with the Herrin riots.
Willis, according to the testimony of Dr. O. F. Shipman, formerly a resident of Herrin, drove up to the mine's hall in Herrin in an automobile toward midnight on June 21. Early the same day the hardware stores of Herrin and a Mr. Hain had been looted of arms and ammunition, the non-union workers in the mine of the Southern Illinois Coal company had been attacked and three union miners killed.
Dr. Shipman, asserted that there was a crowd before the hall when Willis arrived and that he heard him say:
"We've got the mine well guarded and nobody can get away. We can't do anything more before daylight when we can see. What I am most interested in is prevailing upon the sheriff not to get the troops there until we get the men out."
The sheriff is our friend, he told me, he told them they ought to have known better than come down here but now that they were there, let them take what is coming to them.
"The sheriff is a good fellow. He is loyal to us and we ought to take care of him at the fall election."
Melvin Thaxton, recently elected county treasurer was the sheriff at the time of the outbreak, but Dr. Shipman testified that he did not know to whom Willis was referring.
The next morning, according to previous witnesses, the forty-eight defenders of the mine laid down their arms and surrendered after being assured of their safety. They were marched two miles, lined up before a barbed wire fence and shot down as they fled. Dr. Shipman said that he had seen six of the prisoners who had been recaptured marching and bleeding and pleading thru the streets of Herrin by a jeering mob to a cemetery outside the town where they were shot down in the road.
"The crowd at one point made them get down and crawl along on their hands and knees," he testified. "Then they were all tied together with a piece of rope about their necks."
"I heard a boy shout 'No more God to Thee, and a man told them that if they had ever prayed in their lives to pray then. After the prisoners had been shot down the crowd continued firing bullets into their bodies until all movement stopped."

LOU TELLEGEN IS REGULAR DON JUAN WITNESS TESTIFIES

Two Actresses Named as Co-Respondents in Divorce Trial

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 19.—Lou Tellegen, actor, who is being sued for divorce by Geraldine Farrar, former Metropolitan Opera star was described today as a "Don Juan" of stage, seashore and Ghetto, by witnesses testifying for the divorce before Referee Thomas H. Mahoney.
These witnesses named two women as co-respondents. One was Miss Lora Ambler an Australian actress. The other was referred to only as "Miss L." an American actress who played in the same company with Tellegen in 1921.
A third woman said to be known in San Francisco as Besie Clifford was named in the complaint but no mention was made of her today.
Two of the witnesses, W. F. Biers and Louis Malthaner, owners of bungalows in a colony on Long Beach described a "month of bliss" spent in July 1921 by Tellegen and Miss Ambler in a cottage facing the sea. When Tellegen returned to New York, testimony showed he was trailed night and day by private detectives. In August Miss Ambler went to live with friends in a studio apartment on the top floor of a house on West 37th street. Norman Fitzsimmons, private detective said he followed Tellegen to this house on numerous occasions and that the actor met the girl in the vestibule. Invariably, he said, they embraced in the shadows and then went for long walks.

In September, after the opening of "Don Juan" with Tellegen in the title role, the actor began dividing his attentions between Miss Ambler and "Miss L." according to Fitzsimmons.
Immediately after the performances he would hail a taxi and take "Miss L." to her home on Riverside Drive, spend a moment or two with her in the hallway and then go down town to meet Miss Ambler. One night in September, Fitzsimmons continued he followed Tellegen and "Miss L." to a bench overlooking the river in a dark place on Riverside Drive. At this point the referee asked to newspaperman to depart, as Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Miss Farrar thought the testimony to come would be "unfit for their ears."
After Fitzsimmons had left the stand, reporters returned. Day and Miss Farrar's attorneys said they understood that no defense would be offered.

RESULT OF SHAM BATTLE SHOW THE NEED OF CRUISERS

Necessary to Protect Fleet, Naval Strategists Claim

(By The Associated Press)
ABOARD U. S. S. CALIFORNIA, Panama Bay, March 19.—The necessity for a preponderance of light cruisers, destroyers and air craft to protect the battle fleet was strikingly illustrated in the opinion of naval strategists by the results of two destroyer attacks on the Pacific fleet today which were witnessed by Secretary Denby and a group of senators and representatives.
While neither assault carried out element of surprise, two dreadnaughts were thoroughly put out of action during each phase of the maneuvers.
In the first attack 19 destroyers attached to the Blue fleet came over the horizon behind a smoke screen and launched 57 torpedoes, two finding a mark on the Idaho, third ship of the red fleet, and one striking the California, flagship of Admiral Eberle's Pacific fleet. Eighteen sea planes sent out to bomb the destroyers failed to arrive before the torpedoes were launched.
The battleships opened simulated fire on the destroyers, but officers said the attacking force was so well protected by the smoke screen that it did not afford much of a target.
During the second attack which was staged without a smoke screen 19 destroyers again participated. They lay down a checker board of 70 torpedoes forcing the "red" fleet to deploy from its battle line. Two torpedoes struck the Tennessee second ship in line while another one hit the Idaho third ship. Officers judged both out of action the battleships because of the haze, having difficulty in getting the range of the destroyers. During each phase the "red" fleet had the aid of three lighter cruisers which, however, were not detected by destroyers. Sea planes did not figure in the second phase.

Driving

(By The Associated Press)
JOLIET, Ill., March 19.—Two convicts at the state prison here today, using a chain on their handcuffs, choked a guard into submission, routed a trusty from an automobile in which the party was returning to the prison from the honor farm, forced the guard into the driver's seat and compelled him to drive toward Chicago. Branch is to Tap Coap
Country

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, March 19.—The reply of the Illinois Central railroad to the questionnaire of the interstate commerce commission on the proposed Edgewood cut-off in Southern Illinois was filed in Washington today and given out here by the railroad's attorneys.
The chief reason for the new branch to run from Edgewood, Ill., on the present mainline to Paducah, Ky., is to tap undeveloped coal country, it is asserted in the road's brief. A list of the towns thru which the proposed line will run, discloses only scanty population, but a possible freight revenue for the first year, amounting to more than $3,000,000 is indicated.
No part of the estimated traffic on the new branch will be diverted from existing railroads, the brief says, in answer to the twenty-seventh of the 32 questions. The line will be finished within two years from the time building starts, the brief says. There will be only one main line track over the greater part of the new route, which is planned to give the road a separate connection between Edgewood and Fulton, Ky., both on the main line, thru Paducah.

MODERATION IN TEMPERATURE IS FORECAST TODAY

Follows Most Severe
March Blizzard
Ever Known

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, March 19.—A marked moderation in temperature with a bright sun shining in some places and a forecast of fair and warmer today registered the end of one of the most severe March snow storms that the great lakes region and the Mississippi Valley has ever known.
New low temperature records for late March were established in many places throughout the middle west last night and early today when the storm swept this region on its way from Alaska to the southern part of the United States. New records were established at points in Missouri, Tennessee and Texas, while other points in the state farther north recorded the coldest late March weather in half a century.
An increased temperature and sunshine today began melting the huge banks of snow which have been blocking and impeding all forms of travel in parts of Iowa and Nebraska. Heavy snow fall was prevalent in the entire storm swept area, snow falling as far south as Birmingham, Ala. It was expected that train service which has been abandoned in some places and delayed from 12 to 28 hours in other places, would be returned to normal soon.

Two deaths caused by the cold reported at Rockford, one at Waukegan, Wis., one near Kutch, Colorado, one at Whiting, Ind., and one at Chicago. Reports from Baxter, Colorado last night also told of the finding of the bodies of three children who had been frozen to death.

Damage to crops was expected to run into the millions, it being estimated that the Oklahoma peach crop alone was damaged to the extent of more than two million dollars.

Some livestock was frozen to death at Council Bluffs, Iowa, when a train was stalled during a blizzard there yesterday.
Reports from Milwaukee, said that every coal office in the city was besieged today with orders for fuel, three blizzards in rapid succession having left thousands of coal bins empty.

What Fools Men Are

From the play, "The Flapper," Walter's Comedy Drama

Peggy Kendricks is a pretty society flapper. She lives with her literary sister Kate and the latter's good-looking husband, Bartley Claybourne. Kate, engrossed in her work, fails to note Peggy's elaborate clothes, but when she comes upon a lot of receipted bills she finds proof that her husband has paid for the finery.

Kate seeks divorce with the understanding that Bartley will marry Peggy when it is granted. But Peggy does not love him enough for that and willingly promises not to see him during Kate's absence in Reno. She does see much of Ralph Demarest, whose wealthy father is prejudiced against all flappers and Peggy in particular. So she impulsively marries Ralph and the end of the honeymoon discloses the fact that Ralph's money is to be administered by lawyers.

His father calls and succeeds in buying Peggy off. She flings the money at Ralph and orders him to make a man of himself. Peggy has laughed at Bartley's proposal, so now she reunites him with Kate and finally succeeds in reforming Ralph. In the end she justifies herself as a flapper and even wins the affection of Ralph's father who agrees that while Peggy's methods were unconventional her heart is pure gold.

A modern hotel in Jacksonville will be of tremendous advertising value. The experience of other cities proves that a good hotel is a substantial asset for any community.

The Dunlap state police bill may be defeated and a measure introduced which will in some way protect country traffic. It makes no difference just so the needed protection is provided.

The trial of the Michigan reds is now on. William Z. Foster, the ring leader, and a man who has sorely tried the patience of the country, is the first to stand trial, charged with advocating the overthrow of the United States government. Chief of counsel for the defendants is Frank P. Walsh, a brilliant lawyer, but a man of radical tendencies.

It is declared that every legal dodge known to the profession of law will be availed of, and every form of protection, expressed or implied, which can be read into or out of the U. S. constitution, will be tried on the court. When one stops to think of it, how people of the Foster stripe abhor and condemn the constitution when out of the clutches of the law, but how they worship and extend it when the click of the handcuffs gives pause to their anarchistic activities. Legally Mr. Foster is entitled to the benefit of every doubt. Actually, how many doubt what he was really up to.

GOVERNMENT EXPLAINS SAVINGS SYSTEM.

A very attractive booklet issued by the U. S. savings system tells what the government is doing to encourage the people to practice economy and thrift. About twelve years ago the Postal Savings system was established, chiefly for the benefit of the foreign born who would trust their earnings only with the government for safe keeping. During the war the national savings movement grew in importance when war savings stamps and certificates were sold to persons of small means who wanted a safe investment, and who practically wished to meet the requests of the government for money to carry on the war. But these savings securities were not adapted to after war conditions, and a new method to carry on the savings movement was devised.

The government savings system was re-organized and treasury savings certificates were issued to take the place of war savings securities. New life was injected into the system and it is now working upon broad lines. It is conducting a campaign of education to teach the people to save; to have them avoid the swindling operations which take hundreds of millions of hard earned money from them; and, it is offering for sale a sound, safe and convenient form of investment in denominations within the reach of all, and which are fully explained in the booklet.

TO LIVE LONG.

NEA

Will you live to a ripe old age? That depends more on your ancestors than on yourself. Such is the conclusion reached by Dr. Raymond Pearl of Johns Hopkins University.

Says Pearl: "The most important thing a person can do toward attaining a ripe old age is to pick the right kind of parents and grand parents."

This expresses a definite idea, though in a way that will seem impossible to most of us. However, there are many who believe that we select our parents before coming into the world. This belief is a branch of the mysticism now epidemic.

Many of us die young or drag along with bad health, as a result of some ancestor's dissipation or the unhealthy economic conditions that surrounded him back yonder in the past.

Dr. Pearl compares us with locks that are wound up to run varying lengths of time. "Some men have been wound for a full 90-year run, others are only partially wound and stop at 40, 50 or some other point. In human affairs the original winding is heredity. Sand in the works is environment—disease, or mode of life."

You have often heard it said: "He'll live to a very old age. He comes from long lived stock."

If you get out the records kept in the family Bible or elsewhere, and figure the average age at which your direct ancestors died for several generations back, you'll have the most probable age of your own death. Observe that the figure will express your average or most probable chance. You may differ from the average—live longer or shorter. That depends largely on the care you are able to take of your body and mind.

How about sudden death—for instance, the man run down by an auto? Dr. Pearl says heredity is a powerful influence even in such cases of "unavoidable accident." If the victim had inherited keen wits and swift judgment, he probably would have been too alert to be struck by a motorcar.

The age at which we die is determined by a combination of heredity and environment. And environment includes early training and diet, as well as later surroundings and occupation.

Karl Pearson's researches convinced him that there is a scientifically exact relation between the death age of father and son. He decided that the death age is 50 to 75 per cent determined by hereditary factors, and that these are so powerful they cannot be materially modified by environment.

The clear cut lesson in all this is that the way we live, and take care of our health today will to large extent, fix the number of years our sons, grandsons and later descendants will live. The greatest legacy for the future is a sensible living in our generation.

The log book of the endeavor with Captain Cook's diary of his first voyage of exploration in the South Seas, in 1764, is soon to be sold in London.

IN JUAREZ.

On the Mexican side of the Rio Grand is Juarez. And there, wherever you chance to stand, A bar is. Both sides of the street, four sides of a square, Wherever you look, a bar is there. And the sounds of revelry fill the air In Juarez.

But the click of the chips is heard no more In Juarez. You gamble not as you did of yore, Afar is. The hectic time when you played roulette, But still on the ponies a guy can bet. No model city, at least as yet, Is Juarez. El Paso's lively and full of pep, Not Juarez. The Mexicans move with slower step In Juarez.

Their nondescript soldiers slouch along Unhurried through the dark-skinned throng. And life is a sort of a slumber song In Juarez.

They fight the chickens and fight the bull In Juarez. And those aren't all of the fights they pull In Juarez. For the blood of the Mexican swains is hot, And a rival at times is knifed or shot, Thought it doesn't happen an awful lot, In Juarez.

WRITES INTERESTING LETTER FROM COAST

Mrs. Mary Thorndike, Former Morgan County Resident, Tells Interesting Facts About Life in California.

A letter giving various interesting facts has been received by the Journal from Mrs. Mary Thorndike, a former resident of Morgan county, who is now in Los Angeles, Calif. Mrs. Thorndike finds life on the western coast very much to her liking, as the following letter indicates: Los Angeles, Calif., March 14, 1923.

Dear Journal Readers: I will write and tell you a little of the experiences I am having. I attended the banquet the Illinois folks had and had a very pleasant evening. I met your president and wife, Dr. C. H. Rammekamp and they are very charming people. I also met Professor Crumpton and wife of Claremont, and our president, A. W. Rider and Secretary W. W. Widenham, and also Wood Terry, who is always on hand.

I called on Mr. and Mrs. John Goltra the other evening and found their daughter, Mrs. Seurlock and family there from Pasadena. Had a very delightful evening.

We have a Southern California Veterans association which meets every year. Last year it met out at Huntington Beach, the last ten days of August. I went out there last year with our vice president, Mrs. Cox, who is president this year of our Stanton Relief corps. We got our breakfast in our tent and had our lunch on the grounds, and went up to the city for our dinner and then took a walk down to the beach.

They have an entertainment every evening in the big tents. They will have it fixed up much better this year, and our state encampment met at Modesto this year. Last year it was held at Burnside, and we stopped at the Mission. Do not know where we will stop this year. I expect to drive up with some friends in their car and then drive on up to Frisco.

I belong to the Stanton Relief corps, the Daughters of the Helen Christy tent No. 17, the Circle of the G. A. R. and the Royal Neighbors, and a little Tuesday afternoon club, so you see I am on the go some, but I love California and the many dear friends I have met. There are a number of the girls that have homes that have adopted me, and when I go to their homes it is not visiting, it is like home. I take hold and help them and they do not make company of me.

We have a community sing every night and we have lots of fun. Some nights we do not go home from corps if it is late. We stay and all go out and get our dinner. Last Friday there were nine of us at one table. I often read Mr. Nichols' letters, so thought I would write also. I have friends out at Pomona and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Silcox out at Redlands, whom I visit once in a while. I was out there last month and stayed one night, as that was all the time I had to spare as there was so much going on.

Next week our national president and his wife and members of the staff are to be here and every day next week there is something planned in their honor. We will have a big reception for them Wednesday afternoon and at night there will be a banquet with plates at $1.50. Am at my old place, 551 South Grove avenue.

JACOB COHEN'S WILL PLACED ON REORD

Provision Made for Distribution of Property Among Wife and Children—Estate Includes Valuable Real and Personal Property

The will of Jacob Cohen was made a matter of record Monday afternoon in the office of County Clerk G. L. Riggs. Mr. Cohen made customary provisions for the payment of debts and funeral expenses. The estate is accounted as of large value. Paragraph two of the will states that a partnership existing between Jacob Cohen and Benjamin Cohen under the firm name of Jacob Cohen & Son, was an equal partnership, each owning an undivided one-half of all assets of the business.

It is provided in the next section that the executor of the will, acting with the surviving partner, shall after taking an inventory of the partnership property, sell a sufficient amount to pay all of the indebtedness and that after such payment the inventory shall be reconstituted and the property thus shown shall be sold by the executor at private sale to the two sons, Benjamin and Herman Cohen, that is the one-half interest of the testator after the payment of debts.

Mr. Cohen bequeathed to the two sons all of the real estate which he owned excepting his residence property at 860 North Church street, three-fourths interest to Benjamin Cohen and one-fourth to Herman Cohen.

By another provision Mr. Cohen gave to his wife, Fannie Cohen, the use and right of occupancy of the residence property at 860 North Church street, for her life time, and he also gave to his wife one-third of all his personal property after the payment of debts, funeral expenses and costs of administration.

It is a further provision that all the remainder of the estate be converted into money and the amount divided equally among three children, Benjamin Cohen, Herman Cohen and Mrs. Emma Ramenofsky. Following the death of Mrs. Cohen the residence property on North Church street shall be sold and the proceeds divided equally among the three children named.

The testator stated that he had not made provision for his daughter Goldie Cohen, with the belief that his wife will receive a sufficient sum out of the estate to enable her after taking into consideration bequests made to provision for Goldie Cohen, and the testator further expressed his confidence that this action would be taken by his wife.

By the terms of the will, which was made the 14th of January, 1921, Mr. Cohen designated the Ayers National bank as the executor of the will. The signature was witnessed by E. B. Wiswell, J. W. Walton and Edward Bove.

By a codicil to the will made the 13th of May, 1922, Mr. Cohen provided that if for any reason the Ayers National bank does not qualify as executor that then Edward M. Dunlap shall serve in that capacity.

The signature to the codicil was witnessed by Muriel E. Cain and Robert Paterson.

ENTERPRISE FLOUR PLANNED
Jacksonville ladies are now to have a chance to show their skill in bread baking. The manufacturers of Valler's Enterprise flour are offering substantial prizes for the best home made loaf of bread baked with Enterprise flour.

The contest is to be held on April 6, so there is ample time for practicing baking before the dates of the entry and contest. No special style loaf will be required, as every person entering the contest will be permitted to bake bread in the usual way. Lightness, general appearance, crust, texture and flavor are the five points on which the bread, which will be exhibited at the Johnson Hackett store, will be judged. Similar contests have been held in Springfield, Decatur and a number of other central Illinois cities, with a great deal of resulting interest.

Before the week closes young women canvassers will call at every house in Jacksonville, taking orders for Enterprise flour and giving information about the contest. No entrance fee is to be charged.

Financial Status of Our School District

(By E. F. Shafer.)
No. 2.

As has been pointed out by the letter from the state superintendent's office, and by a previous article published in our papers, the great need of our school district is modern buildings for our grade schools.

It is the purpose of this article to show that with the present rate of income we shall not be able to provide these much needed buildings for some twenty-five or thirty years, and that in the mean time we shall be continually bonded to the legal limit, paying yearly from $15,000 to $18,000 interest on this indebtedness.

A frequent assertion heard by our citizens is, "Why don't the Board of Education do this, and why don't the Board of Education do that, etc."

Our rate of taxation is now as high as by law the board is permitted to make it without a special vote of the people. The money is all being spent and a single additional expenditure would mean retrenchment with respect to some items of expenditure now in the budget. It is a question of relative values that must be considered.

Furthermore, while the need of money for the operation of our school system is increasing the supply which we are receiving is diminishing. This is perhaps taking place more rapidly than either the cost of living or of supplies is diminishing. Two years ago our assessed valuation was $6,715,909, this year it is $6,409,656; two years ago our income from local taxation was $184,687. This year it is $176,- 265. In two years the assessed valuation has decreased $307,253 and our income from taxation has decreased $8,422.

Our tax rate for school purposes is $2.75 per 100 of assessed valuation or 2.75 per cent.
The money thus raised is divided into two funds, one the general fund and the other the building and repair fund. Two per cent goes into the general fund out of which teachers are paid. Supplies for instruction and overhead costs are all paid for out of this fund. Also the cost of heat, light, water and janitor's supplies comes out of the general fund. The seventy-five hundredth of one (.75 per cent) goes into the building and repair fund.
Out of this fund is paid the cost of buildings and grounds as well as repairs and upkeep of same.

We are now bonded to the extent of $230,000. This on the basis of the present assessed valuation is above the legal limit of five per cent. However, it is within the limit based on the assessed valuation at the time they were issued.

The bonds must be paid for out of the building and repair fund or out of seventy-five hundredths of one per cent. Also all current repairs to buildings and ground must be paid for out of the same fund. The amount required for this purpose is about $45,000 per year. Last year
$32,200 of this money was given out to bond retirement and the payment of interest, $15,000 going towards bond retirement and $17,200 going for interest. The remainder was needed for current expenses. Thus under present conditions we are able to pay off these bonds at the rate of $15,000 per year.

Estimating the cost of new building at $150,000, it is evident that it will be approximately ten years before a bond issue can be voted sufficient to construct a single building. In fact it will not be quite that long for as time goes on the amount of interest to be paid will become less and the surplus can be set aside as a building fund.
Since, according to the expert judgment we have had from the state inspector, four buildings are needed it can readily be seen that with our present rate of income it will be at least 30 years before all our grade-school buildings can be rehabilitated.

Summarizing: We are now raising as much money as by law, without a special vote of the people, and are spending it all.
Our income from local taxation is decreasing because the assessed valuation is decreasing. We are now bonded to the legal limit and are able to pay off these bonds at the rate of $15,000 per year.
Interest on the bonded indebtedness amounts to from $15,000 to $18,000 dollars per year, and it will be necessary to keep up this high bonded indebtedness for the next thirty years if we are to rehabilitate our grade schools with our present rate of income.

Mrs. Evans Freed from Female Weakness by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Michigan.—"I had female weakness with pains in my back, and I could not stand on my feet for a length of time. I was working in a factory but had to quit as I was too much on my feet. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me, and I can hardly believe it myself that I am well. Oh, it is a grand thing to have your health! I feel well all the time and can go out like other women and not feel that awful torture. When I took your medicine first I thought I should cure after the first bottle, but I am glad my husband kept me at it. I have had nine bottles and now I am well."—Mrs. JENNY EVANS, 1604 Lafayette Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.

If you are suffering from displacements, irregularities, backache, nervousness or other forms of female weakness, you should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The reason is given in letters like these, and we have published thousands of them. You may expect that a medicine that has helped other women will help you. Try it.

Thin? Run-down? Sure Way to Get Right Weight

Increase Your Red Blood Cells. That's the Sure Way! S. S. S. Builds Blood Cells. This Means Strength!

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many men because they are under weight? Simply because to be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-blood-cells in your blood, minus health, minus energy, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1829, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Hollow cheeks fill out. You stop being a calamity-looker. You inspire confidence. Your body fills to the point of power, your face becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. S. S. S. makes you feel like yourself again.

LITTLE SPECULATION ON MEMORANDUM

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, March 19.—Whether Germany's last memorandum on the Ruhr situation and the reparation question will prove a useful contribution to possibly early endeavors thru third parties to force a breach in the Franco-German impasse has so far brought out only a limited amount of speculative discussion in German financial circles.

The memorandum delivered to Washington and London last Friday while addressed to the American and British governments to inform them of the German view of the situation was intentionally intended to be made available to France and Belgium thru diplomatic channels, it was officially explained today. Official quarters declined to comment further except to declare that it was up to France to create an atmosphere which would be conducive to negotiations and that the memorandum could be in no wise regarded as a formal attempt to obtain the intervention of an Anglo-Saxon power in the Ruhr situation.

Foreign Minister Baron Von Rosenberg has not suffered from lack of counsel which is being showered on him from many quarters, semi-diplomatic and otherwise, a circumstance which is continually stimulating rumors of impending negotiations.

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT DIES IN ST. LOUIS

Indianapolis, Ind., March 19.—George E. Kessler, 61 year old, of St. Louis, Mo., nationally known landscape architect died at a local hospital tonight following a brief illness. Mr. Kessler drew up the building plans for the St. Louis exposition in 1904, and engaged in city planning work in Kansas City, Mo., El Paso, Texas, Cleveland, Syracuse, Denver, Indianapolis and other places. At the time he became ill, he was engaged in working out plans for a new boulevard system for Mexico City.

Waukesha, Wis., March 19.—A. J. Hutton, 79, leader of Wisconsin educational and reform institutions for more than a score of years died here yesterday. He had entered his home from church after walking through a mile of heavy snow drift when he fell dead. Heart disease was given as the cause.

Golconda, Ill., March 19.—The store of Constable John Frothingham here was dynamited early yesterday and Frothingham and wife who live in the building were thrown out of their bed but were not seriously hurt. The officer recently had been investigating operations of alleged illicit liquor dealers and ascribed the bombing to this activity.

HOTEL CAMPAIGN IS EARLY POSSIBILITY

Business Men Will Meet in Conference Tonight to Plan for Project.

As already indicated, a number of business men who at intervals during the past year have been considering a new hotel project, will meet at the Pacific hotel tonight at 6:30 o'clock for a dinner. Afterward a conference on hotel possibilities will be held, and it is the expectation that a campaign will immediately begin for the selling of the stock necessary to make a new hotel a certainty.

Paris and Henry, Ill., and a number of other cities in the state not as large as Jacksonville—to say nothing of the larger cities—have within the past year or two put on successful hotel building campaigns. The result in each instance has been a hotel of which the city could be proud, a business which has been a distinct asset.

The general business of hotels during recent years has increased tremendously and those who have studied the subject are very confident that this is not a boom but a natural development. Further growth may be expected and citizens of Jacksonville who have considered the matter are firmly of the belief that a new hotel here will be of great public benefit, just as has been true in other cities.

It is likely that plans will be followed here which will provide for bonds to half the value of the property and stock for the other 50 per cent. After the stock has been subscribed a company will be formed and thru officers, directors and committees the organization will decide upon the site for a hotel, the size of the building and other necessary details.

The other authorizes seizures of goods and property belonging to the allied governments or their nations in these territories but not in their possession. Declaration of possession of such articles must be made to the inter-terrestrial commission the ordinance provides.

ENGLISH OFFICIALS GET BIG SALARIES

Palestine Budget for Fiscal Year Calls for $11,000,000—Create Discontent Among the People.

Jerusalem.—(By the A. P.)—The Palestine budget for the coming year calls for an expenditure of nearly $11,000,000. Comment has been caused by the high salaries paid to English officials, and the relatively small amount allotted to education.

Two and one half million dollars are for the maintenance of prisons, and public security. This, however, is not surprising in view of the large number of Indian troops kept here whose presence is deemed necessary because of the hatreds engendered by the Balfour declaration. Less than half a million dollars is appropriated for education, and half of this sum goes to administrative expenses. The country would be in a bad way indeed, from the standpoint of education, were it not for the excellent schools maintained by the Christian missions, and the good work done by the Zionist organization in looking after the education of Jewish children.

The head of the department of education draws a salary larger than that of the secretary to the president of the United States, and the salaries of all the English officials are correspondingly large. The British High Commissioner is paid $35,000 a year, and has in addition an expense allowance of $7,500 annually.

These high salaries have created discontent among the people. In judging the situation it should be remembered that Palestine is a poor country, with an area equal to the state of Vermont. Until recently all the heads of governmental departments had their own automobiles, maintained at great expense by the government. But an Arabic newspaper in Jerusalem made such an outcry against this practice that it was speedily abolished.

THE LASCELLES NOW LIVING IN YORKSHIRE

LONDON.—(By the A. P.)—The Lascelles have moved into their country home, Goldborough Hall, in Yorkshire, which has been completely remodeled to suit the taste of the Viscountess, who before her marriage was Princess Mary.

THIEVES MADE AWAY WITH HAPSBURG JEWELS

GENEVA.—(By the A. P.)—"A swindle without precedent" is the final verdict just pronounced by the Federal Court of Geneva in trying to account for the disappearance of the priceless crown jewels of the Hapsburg dynasty.

How they were stolen under the pretext of sale from a nobleman to whom the ex-emperor had entrusted them just before he made his last attempt to regain the throne, has come out in the court to which the distracted ex-empress turned in hope of recovering some of the gems.

The heirlooms are priceless. The value of one million pounds placed upon them is only nominal, and probably represents only about 60 per cent of their value. One matchless diadem, worn by ex-empress Zita, was set with four of the only eight pink diamonds known to exist.

Charles carried the jewels in a special case, and they accompanied him on his wanderings. When he entered the airplane which was to take the ex-empress and himself to Budapest, he handed the case to his aide-de-camp, Baron Steiner. When the attempt to regain the throne failed, and the royal couple was exiled to Madeira, creditors descended upon Baron Steiner.

He thought of the jewels, and obtaining permission from an aunt of Charles to dispose of them, he opened negotiations with a trio of international jewelers. On their agreement to buy the jewels, and giving 300,000 francs on account, he allowed them to be taken.

All the Baron knows is that they were taken over the frontier from Switzerland, and he has never seen them or a son of the balance of the money since. The jewelers at first claimed that they had been cheated by "go-betweens."

What the loss meant to the ex-emperor may be imagined when it is said that at the time of his exile, they were his only source of income. Charles with his increased worry and also the knowledge that Zita was again to become a mother tramped hatless and haggard over the hills at Madeira. His hair turned white, he contracted pneumonia, and died within a few weeks.

Thus the jewels of the Hapsburgs added another victim to their probably already large number.

COUNCIL PREPARES FOR NEXT ELECTION

New City Officers Will Be Chosen April 17th—Special Economy Urged for Coming Months

The city council at the regular semi-monthly meeting Monday night passed an election ordinance. The election will be held on Tuesday, April 17. The polling places will be as usual, and most of the officials designated served in the recent primary.

Mayor Crabtree, City Clerk Scott and Aldermen Rowe, Sorrells, Chapin, McGinnis and Loneragan were present.

The ballots cast at the recent primary election were canvassed, and the results were found to be as shown in the unofficial returns published the day after the election.

An ordinance was read providing for the laying of a water main on North East street from Duval street to Independence avenue.

Mayor Crabtree impressed upon the council again the necessity of using the greatest economy possible during the year. The funds available from taxation are not as large this year as was true in 1922 and some necessary expenditures have been made in the water and power plant. It was suggested that at an early meeting the heads of departments be invited to meet with the council to talk over city affairs so that there may be a thorough understanding of the financial situation.

Statements relative to all city departments will also be published for general information. After discussion of some other routine business the council adjourned.

THE LASCELLES NOW LIVING IN YORKSHIRE

LONDON.—(By the A. P.)—The Lascelles have moved into their country home, Goldborough Hall, in Yorkshire, which has been completely remodeled to suit the taste of the Viscountess, who before her marriage was Princess Mary.

During the last six months contractors have reconstructed the interior of the Elizabethan mansion. The lack of corridors, the principal drawback to which the Princess called attention, has been remedied and it is not now necessary to pass thru one room to another.

In its original state the house had a room at one corner, containing a deep recessed window. A curious exercise of the taste of a later century, the restorer chose to cut the window off from this room and, blocking up some of the openings for glass, made a side room of it. The Princess had had the room restored to its former character of three centuries ago, and today it is her private sitting room.

In the matter of bath rooms, Goldborough Hall was thought to be well supplied when two were installed a few years ago, both attached to guest chambers. There are now ten.

Special apartments have been provided for royal guest and it may be assumed that the Hall, which centuries ago was the favorite gathering place of the gentry of the country, will once more be the scene of varied entertainments and parties.

EXPORTS INCREASE IMPORTS DECLINE

LONDON.—Complete British trade returns for 1922 show substantial improvement in export trade but a decrease in imports. Exports were valued at 170,000,000 pounds sterling more than in 1921, while imports were 81,500,000 pounds less.

During the month of December exports of coal were high, amounting to nearly 6,000,000 tons. Shipments to the United States were 178,845 tons as compared with 200,527 tons in November. It is stated that representatives of American coal firms are now in Great Britain arranging for fairly heavy shipments of coal during the next few months.

A further slight decline occurred in the cost of living in December. On January 1, the index figure was approximately 78 per cent over pre-war standard, as against 80 per cent on December 1. There was a fall of 14 points during the entire year.

Great Britain had 933,368 licensed motor vehicles at the end of 1922, including 293,740 private cars. Motor cars contributed 5,000,000 pounds to road taxation.

GIVES RECREATION FIELDS TO PUBLIC

PONCA CITY, Okla.—(By A. P.)—The magic of black gold that sprouts from the oil fields of Oklahoma and Texas, which has made millionaires overnight, is seen perhaps in few places more clearly than in this active little city of some 7,000 persons.

Ponca City boasts the distinction of having more laborers who are golf fans than any other city in the world—the result of an oil millionaire's riches which have enabled him to realize an ambition to make others happy. The man is Ernest W. Marland, head of the oil company that bears his name, and the golf playing laborers are his employees who, with the general public, are invited to use his private course, recognized as one of the best and most beautiful in the southwest. It is no unusual sight to see a foursome of bankers teeing off behind a group of men in jumpers and overalls.

Marland's golf course is part of his estate. Deciding to make Ponca City his permanent home in 1916, Marland selected a cornfield on the city's outskirts as the desired site. Today the southern part of the field has been transformed into the most elaborate garden in the southwest, and by the side of the garden is his palatial residence, reputed to have cost approximately one million dollars.

Has Fine Hazards.

At the opposite end of the estate is the golf course. This, too, has been landscaped and beautified. A small stream flows thru the course and has been dammed to form several small lakes. Clumps of trees and shrubs combine beauty with utility in providing hazards.

Two years ago Mr. Marland announced that he would build an athletic park, which, like his golf course and his garden, should be open to the public. Twenty acres adjoining the Marland refining plant were purchased and work commenced. The park was opened this spring. It is one of the most modern in the state, containing playing fields for football and baseball, running track, tennis courts and open sward to be used as desired. The concrete grandstand seats 1,800 and is equipped with club rooms, showers and other modern conveniences.

The Des Moines club of the Western league will use the park for training next spring.

Mr. Marland's newest enterprise of this nature is the establishment of a game preserve. He has purchased 300 acres adjoining the city on the north and is directing a large force of men in beautifying the area and otherwise preparing it for use.

TWO SPRINGFIELD BUSINESS HOUSES BURN

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 19.—Smoldering ruins this morning marked the place on the Court House Square where one of Springfield's most spectacular fires last night did $135,000 damage to the E. & W. Clothing House and the Fancy Bazar, two business houses which just four months ago were visited by their first disastrous blaze.

Fireworks stored in the window of the Fancy Bazar were ignited, and an explosion followed which knocked four firemen from a ladder. None of them was seriously hurt. Cause of the fire, which started, as did the one four months ago, in the Fancy Bazar, is not known.

The E. & W. Store which is owned by Charles Burkhardt of Galesburg, was damaged to the extent of $30,000 it was estimated.

REV. F. E. BRACEWELL PREACHES AT REVIVAL

Large Audience Hears Strong Address—Rev. A. P. Howells Delivers Sunday Night Sermon

A large and appreciative congregation filled Grace Methodist church Monday evening and listened with close attention to the close of the eloquent sermon delivered by the Rev. F. E. Bracewell, pastor of West Jacksonville Circuit. His theme was conviction, and he took for his text James 4 and 14, "What Is Your Life?"

"Men's hearts are yearning for certainty," the preacher began. "A man who has seen the Mountains has no further need for proof of their existence. Men sometimes ask is there such a reality as God, Christ, Sin. Those who have been on the Mountain with God, know there is a God. The speaker drew a graphic picture of the journey of the Spirit to the hill, the river, the ocean and the cloud and compared it to the journey of life. Life is glorious at its best, unspeakably diabolical at its worst. It is pitiable to accept all the riches, beauty and happiness of life and then descend to bestiality in morals. It is glorious privilege to climb the ladder of success to the skies, seize the star dust and scatter it in the barren, broken lives of earth. God never dares to create a man and leave him defenseless against the power of Sin. I am not concerned with trivial disputes about right and wrong, but whether the Soul is open to the influences of the infinite. There are millions of young people walking through life with one foot over the slippery precipice of Sin.

Life must have four great factors: (1). A great aspiration. One life like that of Dr. Grenfell, the Labrador missionary is worth 10,000 railroad magnates, whose chief ambition is to clip coupons and tattle the public to pay the price of their profiteering. (2). A great cause. God sent his angel of adversity to a little lad in a humble cabin in Kentucky, to mar his face, to burden him with poverty, to place obstructions in his path, to break his heart that he might have power to hear the sob of the black mother whose daughter is torn from her breast, sold to the arms of an inhuman brute. To strike and destroy that institution was the cause to which Lincoln devoted his life. (3). A great fight. The fight for souls is here. Socialism, Communism, Bolshevism, Anarchy stalk through the land and defy the cause of God. (4). A glorious victory over sin, death and the grave. I have mourned the premature death of my sainted mother, but I have heard the thrush sing in the weeping willows that overhung her grave, the song of triumph, the victory of life over death.

Dr. M. L. Pontius was in charge of the program. Dr. F. M. Ruhl read the Scriptures. Dr. W. E. Spoons offered prayer. Prof. Arnold Lovejoy sang as a solo, "Behold the Master Passes By." State Street church furnished the following ushers: H. C. Goebel, S. M. Foley, R. I. Dunlap, Walter Crawford, Edw. Tomlinson, C. A. Johnson, Harry Dobyns, J. B. Seibert.

Sunday Services

The speaker Sunday evening was Rev. A. P. Howells, pastor of the First Baptist church. He had as his subject "The Challenge," the sixth in the series. The auditorium of the church was filled, and the balcony was two thirds full of an interested audience, in spite of the sharpness of the weather.

The speaker spoke in part as follows: "As David challenged the Giant to combat, so John challenged the people to repentance. He announced himself as the voice of one crying in the wilderness. That voice was to be heard but not seen. It said: 'I must decrease but my successor must increase.' It requires the followers of Christ to come out squarely before the world, that it might know where they stand and see Jesus in them. Christ's message is a challenge to the sinner. 'Sin is a matter of geometry. The world classes men by horizontals. God classifies them by perpendiculars, upon the right hand or the left. Is the devil bribing us by offering a substitute for the Savior? Is he a dead or a living Christ to us? As the Easter season approaches let us roll away the stone from the tomb that a living Christ may come forth to us.'"

CENTENARY CERTAINTIES

The Sunday school registered the largest attendance in several weeks. Superintendent Metcalf and his department superintendent are working hard to bring the school up to a creditable number, and they are succeeding. The closer grading and organization of the school is progressing and is contributing largely to the increased efficiency.

Master Verne Fiedler played a violin solo during the opening exercises, which was greatly enjoyed. The young man shows a mastery of his instrument that is unusual in one so young, and his command of tone and technique is good. His sister, Miss Dorothy Fiedler, played his accompaniment. These musical numbers have become a regular part of the program for each Sunday morning.

The revival still goes on. The services Sunday emphasized evangelism and at the close of the morning service twelve persons presented themselves to confess Christ and to be enrolled in the membership of the church.

A number of the young people of the Sunday school went to Waverly during the afternoon to assist in the conferencing of young people. They got cold, but lost none of their enthusiasm.

LOCAL TELEGRAPHER TAKEN TO ARKANSAS

H. J. Tonkinson, who has been for several months the day truck operator at the local C. P. & St. L. station, was arrested Monday on orders of Sheriff Johnson of Forest City, Ark., who arrived here Sunday night. Tonkinson is charged with the embezzlement of $2,000 from an estate belonging to some minor children, for whom he is said to have been the guardian.

The arrest was made by Patrolmen Baker and McGinnis Monday morning. Tonkinson was left at his post as operator until the end of his trick Monday, a policeman remaining at the station to guard him. Sheriff Johnson arrived here Monday evening from Springfield, where he went to obtain requisition papers permitting him to take Tonkinson across the state line.

The papers were secured without difficulty and the sheriff left with his prisoner for Arkansas on the 9:15 Wabash Monday evening. The dates of the trial will be set as soon as the sheriff reaches Forest City. Johnson told Chief Kiloran that Tonkinson was indicted two years ago on the charge of embezzlement. # The Advertising Value Of a Good Hotel

(From Stevens Monthly) What is a complete, modern hotel, properly operated, worth to a city? It is probably not an exaggeration to say that it is worth more to a city than any other single building that could be erected. It is worth more to a city than any other single industry contained in that city.

First of all, it has a tremendous advertising value—advertising that costs the city nothing in direct expenditure. During the past year or two the city of New Orleans has spent large sums of money advertising its advantages throughout the country. On the billboards from one end of the country to the other, in magazines and newspapers, we have been told of the advantages to a business man who might be induced to locate there with his family.

And yet it is doubtful if all bring the city as much, in net result, as its magnificent hotels bring in every year. These hotels cost the city nothing as an advertising expense and they contribute very largely to its support through the payment of taxes and the distribution of the money they receive from their guests.

The American people are a nation of travelers. No sooner does a man get an income beyond the necessity for his every day needs than he and his family plan a trip of some kind. The business of the country is being developed along lines that make it no longer a local business. A man in Chicago does business in Atlanta or Kansas City almost as easily as he does at home. This means much traveling back and forth to hotel after this business and the hotels in the city that the traveler visits, whether on business or pleasure, furnish the impressions he gets of that city.

We may go into a department store employing a thousand people and be discourteously treated by one employee and we at once jump to the conclusion that this is the attitude of the entire thousand employees, although we have met only one of them. On the other hand, we may have received the most courteous treatment from the one employee that we met and we are loud in our praises of the store that maintains such high standards in its organization. We know, of course, that there are many hundreds of other employees in this concern and we know that we have met only one of them; yet, unconsciously we form our impression of the entire number by the one with whom we came in contact.

Sooner or later there come to every city in this country people from every State in the Union, people from almost every city in the country, and they are intelligent people, well versed in the things that make up our every day life. They know that there are thousands of fine people living in that city and yet they will be very apt to judge the entire number by the service they get at the hotel and by the attitude of the half dozen employees of that hotel with whom they come in contact. How, then, can any city afford to overlook the tremendous advertising value to all the rest of the world that is given them by a modern hotel which sends its guest away thoroughly satisfied and contented, feeling that the service they have received is typical of the attitude of the entire people.

Memory of the Past

By MYRA CURTIS LANE

Harry and Myrtle had met at a small dance at the house of a mutual friend. Both were young and impressionable, and they fell in love with each other. Instantaneously Harry saw her home and went back to his boarding house walking on air.

Myrtle fell asleep about four o'clock in the morning after thinking of Harry for four hours and forty minutes.

When they met next day they knew that they were head over ears in love with each other. So they became engaged.

Harry had a pretty good position both were in the same set, and their friends all said it was a good match.

How they laughed at those friends. "If any one suspected how much we care for each other they—what would they do?" asked Harry.

"Die, I should think," said Myrtle.

She clung to Harry's arm happily. "It's so wonderful," she said, "looking at all these staid old married couples around us, who don't really care for each other the least bit and thinking that we, by some miracle, have solved the problem of 'happiness'."

Harry agreed. When he saw Myrtle in the street his heart started pounding. He thought of her all day long. They were desperately in love.

Then they had a quarrel. It was about which loved the other more. During its progress Harry felt the world dissolve beneath his feet. When Myrtle went away with her head in the air and a tear-stained face he felt that the only thing against suicide was the probability that it didn't end everything. He rushed round to Myrtle's house ten minutes later and they were reconciled with tears and embraces.

It was after the fourth or fifth quarrel that Harry discovered, to his horror, that the edge had worn off his rapire.

It was a terrible discovery, for they were to be married within the month. He was still awfully in love with Myrtle, only somehow things weren't exactly the same as they had been. His heart still beat furiously when he saw Myrtle in the street, but he no longer felt that suffocating feeling.

Poor little Myrtle. Of course she didn't guess. He must keep it from her at all costs. Now, he was simply in love with Myrtle. Before, he had been a sort of perambulatory lunatic, dreaming of her all day and all night.

He hid his change of feeling like a hero. But the romance had gone out of the thing. Myrtle had become just an ordinary girl. And then one day, about two weeks before the date set for their marriage, an astonishing thing happened.

They were walking in the country, and a long silence had fallen between them, and suddenly Myrtle said:

"Harry, I've been thinking we'd better not be married."

He gave a gasp. "What? What do you mean, Myrtle? Don't you—don't you care any longer?"

"Yes, Harry, dear, I do care still, but—not in the same way. I—Oh it sounds dreadful to say so, but things have—have changed somehow. Now I'm only just—just fond of you."

"Myrtle!" He took her by the arm. "How long since this happened? What made you change?"

She was beginning to cry softly. "I—I don't know, Harry. I—I am fond of you, fonder than I can ever be of any one in my life. But it isn't the same. Don't you feel it isn't the same?"

"I suppose it isn't quite the same," Harry admitted.

"Then you don't care for me any more. I suspected that was it. Then of course I shall release you, Harry."

His pride flared up. "Very well, Myrtle," he answered; and they went on in silence.

Presently he said: "I suppose if we had married we should have become just like these people around us that we used to laugh at. I suppose they once—it sounds incredible, but—went through the same process as we."

"I suppose so," said Myrtle dreamily.

After a while Harry said: "Myrtle, if everyone goes through all this, why do people get married at all?"

"I don't know," sobbed Myrtle. And it was just then that some gate in Harry's understanding opened. Suddenly he caught Myrtle in his arms and kissed her.

"Harry, you mustn't—now."

"Myrtle, darling, I've got it."

"Got what?"

"Don't you see, if it's inevitable, it's the—the memory of the past people live on, when they're fond of each other, and they keep falling in love again and again. Myrtle, what fools we've been. I'm going to marry you. I—why, I love you just the same as before now."

Suddenly the old light leaped into her eyes again. "Why—why—Oh, dear, I see it now. Why, we've never ceased loving each other at all, have we?"

(©, 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

Twenty-five years of indignation was ended for her when she took Tanlac, declares Mrs. M. F. Streeter, well known resident of Newark, in remarkable statement to the public.

"Tanlac has made me feel like a new person and I wouldn't be without it," declared Mrs. M. F. Streeter, 273 S. 9th St., Newark, N. J.

"Off and on for twenty-five years I suffered terribly from stomach trouble. My food disagreed with me and often I could hardly retain a thing. Gas bloated me till my heart palpitated so badly I feared I had heart disease. My nerves were on edge. I couldn't sleep, suffered awful headaches and was simply all worn out."

"But five bottles of Tanlac put me in the finest health. I eat hearty without any trouble afterwards, sleep soundly and have no more nervousness or headaches. My gratitude to Tanlac is unbounded."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. Over 35-million bottles sold. (adv.)

Wm. H. Pollock, 133 E. Walcott St., says: "I had a dull ache through the small of my back. My kidneys acted too freely and the kidney secretions were of a reddish color and contained sediment. I surely felt out of it all over. I sometimes had dizzy spells when things seemed blurred and I had to sit down until they passed. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and it was not long until they relieved all this trouble. I felt much better after a few and was cured after using several boxes."

DESIGNS TO INDICATE PHONE TURNED DOWN

Angus S. Hibbard General Superintendent of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company Drew Simple Design of the Bell Used at the Present Time.

CHICAGO—Few people are aware that advertising experts, artists and numerous others prepared designs and slogans to indicate the telephone back in 1888 and that all of these were refused as not being satisfactory. It remained for Angus S. Hibbard, then General Superintendent of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to draw the simple design, from simple facts, of the Blue Bell, now universally known as indicating the location of a telephone.

Mr. Hibbard is telling of the happening says: "Back in 1888 I had studies made by advertising experts and others, as our Commercial division brought to the need of a sign for public use which would indicate the new service. Many designs and slogans were presented. Greek crosses, shields, circles, tablets and other forms were suggested with various combinations of words.

"Studying these one day and feeling satisfied with none of them, I happened to draw on my desk pad the outline of a bell, because we were to indicate the bell telephone and on it I printed the words 'Long Distance Telephone.' This looked pretty good so I made a fair copy of it, had a drawing made from the copy showing a blue bell with white lettering.

"This was adopted as the standard sign for telephone service. Its use has extended not only thruout the United States, but to many other countries and as far as India, China and Japan. Necessity was the mother of invention, if this may be called invention, and in this case I happened to be the father."

WHITE MAN'S JUSTICE INVADERS FROZEN NORTH

DAWSON, YUKON TERRITORY.—(By the A. P.)—Inspector Stuart Wood and Corporal Pasty, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, have left Dawson for the Herschel Island, one of the most arduous journeys that falls to the lot of the "mounties." The party will proceed to Fort Yukon, Alaska, thence to Rampart House. Here Inspector Wood and Corporal Pasty will leave most of their equipment and proceed on to Herschel, crossing the Arctic divide, then thru the timber limits to the Tundra, reaching their destination about the end of March. It is the longest and most dangerous of all northern trails.

At Herschel Island one of the incidents of the mounted police visits will be the trial of several Eskimos under the white man's law on a charge of murder. Hitherto it has been customary to bring natives under criminal charges out to civilization for trial, but a law recently passed by the federal parliament provides for the trial of the accused Eskimos at Herschel Island.

A SUCCESSFUL MAN
Among the notable professional men of this country who achieved great success along strictly legitimate lines was Dr. R. V. Pierce. Devoting his attention to the specialty of women's diseases, he became a recognized authority in that line.
Over fifty years ago this noted physician gave to the world a Prescription which has never been equaled for the weaknesses of women. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found out what is naturally best for women's diseases. He learned it all through treating thousands of cases. The result of his studies was a medicine called Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths that nature surely intended for backache, headache, weakening pains, and for the many disorders common to women in all ages of life. Women who take this standard remedy know that in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they are getting a safe woman's tonic so good that druggists everywhere sell it in both tablet and fluid form.
Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for trial pkg. Write for free medical advice. (adv.)

ANNUAL I. W. C. GLEE CLUB CONCERT GIVEN
Was One Best in Club's History—Audience Showed Appreciation of the Various Numbers on Program

The annual concert of the T. W. C. club given last night in Music Hall added another musical achievement to the club's history. For brilliancy and style together with delicacy of interpretation, the club surpassed itself and its previous work. This is high praise, for always its work has been notable for a high standard of excellence. The opening numbers led the audience to expect an evening of great pleasure, for the first group of songs showed that the club was able to meet the exacting demands of finest shadings and tone coloring with an ease that might seem to be far beyond the ability of students of their age and experience. In fact one entirely forgot one was hearing students, so artistic and sympathetic was the rendition of all the numbers.
Impressive as is Grieg's "At the Cloister Door," its beauty and dignity were given fullest expression by the soloists Mary Lois Clark and Gwendolyn Schroyer. The triumphant inspiring closing notes of the chorus were so gripping that the audience felt as if an experience of unusual enjoyment had been theirs.
"Cameos of Love," a fantasy had real atmosphere and the interest with which the separate episodes were greeted is ample proof of their excellence. The setting and general conception for uniting the solo numbers was clever and unique and furnished an interlude of more than ordinary pleasure.
No finer selection could have been made for the closing number than "The Gypsies," by Shelley-Brahms. Abandonment and joyousness characterized this beautiful music and here the club showed its masterly interpretation and genuine musical conception.
The club is to be congratulated upon its splendid performance. Such a program as that given last night proves that an audience can be pleased by really worthwhile music without a single appeal to cheap popularity. Madame Colard has pleased Jacksonville audience with her beautiful voice so generously given in college and community affairs but by her direction of the club she added proof that she is as fine a teacher as she is a singer. Only a true and high conception of music can prompt one to give expression to such work as Madame Colard gave last night. Her ability to inspire her students with this same high idealism marks her as an instructor of rare ability. Such an artist is a great asset both to the college and the community and that her work is appreciated was surely evidenced last night.
Miss Kirby served in the difficult role of accompanist in a wholly acceptable manner and her work added much to the general tone of the program.

SENDS FRIEND JAR OF PEANUT BUTTER

A large jar of Purify peanut butter was received recently by J. I. Graham from his friend, Rev. Jesse B. Thornton who is an independent missionary in Japan. The butter was made by the students of Rev. Thornton's self supported Bible school, and it is by means of the manufacture of peanut butter that the school is supported.
The peanut butter machine which does the work, was shipped to Japan from this country. Owing to the nature of the work, the company making the machine gave Rev. Thornton a considerable reduction in the price, and the remainder of the funds were contributed by friends. The actual manufacture of the peanut butter at school is the climax of a long and interesting struggle of it's founder to make it self supporting.
